After completing my diploma from PIAT, I choose to begin my professional career as an INTERIOR DESIGNER; since three years, which has been possible with the guidance of my professors. I am thankful to this institute inculcate in me; qualities of Cliental Communication, Team Work, Task Execution, Time management, Socializing and many more; that a progressing Interior Designer should pursue.

Beginning my journey as Interior Designer; I adore continuing my forte - Sketches and Painting too.

While designing the showroom; main points I have kept in mind are like: maximum panel display, laminate studio for visualization of customer, space allocation according to Vastu shastra, extra display for New Arrivals.

All newly introduced material by 'ROYALE TOUCHE' brand are used as finishes within the showroom; those are:- Digital laminate, 3mm core laminate.

I came from a small town in Maharashtra. The vast exposure, the kind treatment and varied experiences at SEF's PIAT will always be with me in my business. I am thankful to PIAT teachers for my transformation.

A fitness studio is a place where people go to exercise, for recreation and also to reduce their stress levels. Needless to say the environment of a fitness center should be conducive to its user's objectives. One of the important aspects of setting up a fitness center is its design, and by design we don't just mean how the available space is utilized and equipment is laid out.

The aesthetics of a gym plays an important role in attracting and retaining clientele. Gym interior design should ideally reflect the activity, vigor and vibrancy of such a facility. From the tiles on the floor to the colors on the walls - everything should support and enhance the energy levels of the place. Of course, it's not easy to design a gym in a manner that makes it an inviting place for patrons to come for a grueling workout session. It requires the craft of an architect and creativity of an interior designer to get it right.

However, if you are planning to get into the fitness business, here are some interior design ideas for gym that you can contemplate and discuss with your team. The first thing you have to keep in mind is the optimal utilization of the available space. Whether you have a large space or only a small area at your disposal, it's important to not crowd your facility. High ceilings and free spaces will ensure there's ample circulation to keep the facility fresh considering that it's a high activity area.

Theme based fitness center designs are gaining widespread popularity. Having a theme for your facility will not just give it a distinct flavor, but will also put you one step ahead of your rivals by offering customers something different and unique they are unlikely to find elsewhere. While some people take inspiration from their immediate environments, others look to provide a theme that would help their customers escape all that's mundane and regular.

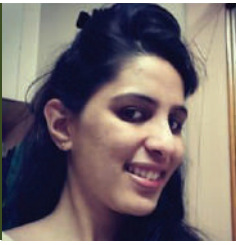

For example, if you have a beach front property, you can design your facility around aquatic theme. Some other popular themes you can consider for your fitness facility design are nature, woodlands, and outer space. Color Scheme & Lighting it may seem unimportant, but choosing the right color scheme for your gym can make a huge difference to its overall appeal. Warm and bright colors exude vibrancy and energy necessary for a place where adrenalin pumping activities take place on a daily basis.

Completed and passed out Diploma in Interior Designing and Decoration from SEF's PIAT in Pune in the year 2011-2012.

At PIAT, we not only learnt the basic construction techniques, designing & materials etc subjects, but also were given personality development & grooming related training. Studying at PIAT is really an all round development for interior designers.

"Mirari Design Visuals" got a first opportunity to design a consultancy office cum educational institute named "QUALITY ENVIRONMENT" located at Vimannagar in a mere space of 300 sqft. wherein the client wanted to make use of it in a multipurpose way which could convert a conference room to class room.

Designing the tables in a unique way helped me solve the client's purpose with a success.

its all about interiors

PIAT has always been like a family to me. All my teachers have treated me like their own child. They helped me develop my designing skills and explore my creative abilities. Special thanks to Pallavi madam for being my mom during the 2 years at PIAT and even today, she's always ready to answer all my questions and sort all my queries about designing. Everyone at PIAT has been very supporting and understanding and it's due to them, that I have developed so far and have been successful in building a career in Interior Designing.

BIBEWADI SITE

A living room designed for MR.PATIL located at Bibewadi, Pune. The design showcases a few traditional elements of design in a very modernized way. Continuity of linear lines and cantilevered projections was the concept behind the design.

The centre table and the corner pieces were specially designed to go perfectly with the design and fulfill the clients' needs. The space is designed in such a way that the room looks spacious and at the same time all the requirements are fulfilled. The colours and lights blend together to give the room a fresh, rich, and pleasant look.

3D VIEWS

3D VISUALIZATION helps in giving "life" to my design ideas. As a designer I work in various fields related to design.

My skills of 3D visualization and creative designing allow me to try my hands in the fields of furniture designing and architectural 3D designing as well.

I passed out from PIAT in 2013 and am working in the area of Residential Interiors since then. I have chosen this line where I see a lot of potential. The increasing spends of middle class people on interiors, the trend of selling furnished flats etc.

is all increasing the business opportunities. I have learnt Basic & Advanced Designing at PIAT and am looking forward to a great career.

The false ceiling is designed in such a way that when it is lit simultaneously the colour lights do not mix with each other.

Arrangement of all the furniture elements with false ceiling ensures the effect desired.

The beauty of design is not only it's simplicity but also the ease and practicality of use.

Interior Designing is an Art. PIAT teaches this art along with the science behind it. The infrastructure including the drawings hall, the classrooms, the library of books, computer lab etc. is conducive to Learning. All the best to PIAT and its students.

In order to keep the interior space both functional and comfortable, there are some decorating ideas for lighting...

The space should have perfect shades with specific colour variants.

Good lighting gives the room a sense of warmth and comfort. Light fixtures also bring style and fashion to the personal space.

Wall lamps or nightstand lights are needed for comfortable reading.

Special care is taken to give a glass support behind the display on the wall and glass top for the display counter, both supported on a glass stud.

Purposefully, using the depth of the white colour, the approach of the design is get highlighted.

Interior Design and Decoration is "the art of designing the interior decoration of a room or building. According to me a design is complete when it satisfies the clients need as well as good in aesthetics. Customer orientation clubbed with Designs is the most important lesson that I learnt at PIAT. The practicing professionals always taught us the importance of understanding customer requirement.

The design, if it has to appear as a continuous element; it has to be very carefully planned. Methods are used to achieve this, Panelling, provision of groves, design of a fun wall.

Rethinking was done for every area; double wall, column, removal of obstacles and replacing them by areas having more clarity and hidden storage with the application of fun walls, MDF, modern artifacts, etc.

Service areas are very carefully tackled.

I joined PIAT as it is a centrally located college, easy to reach. However, I discovered more reasons and liked studying at PIAT. We always were on our toes doing variety of assignments and projects. Specialised subjects such as Vastushashtra were taught through sessions and workshops. I am a proud Alumni of PIAT and recommend the college to all those who are looking for a good interior designing college.

Vision :

At faster + partners we all do what we do because we are motivated to do our best media attention is certainly not necessary, nor does it affect what we design feedback, whether positive or negative is given during regular reviews with the design board, which I chair design may be about communicating motivating but it is always the reconciliation of conflicting demands Listening is vital, as it asking the right question. In the end it's about the chemistry of the relationship.

I have learned what does the word design means is the exploration by an open mind, energy, appetite for hard work, willingness to explore new solutions. A sense of humor is also helpful.

In the above 3d views, we can see some bedrooms are designed by using veneer material, GLO cuttings, wallpapers which are the focal points of the space.

We had so many market visits and site visits at PIAT. The teachers were always enthusiastic to teach and show the latest in each field. May it be residential, commercial, industrial, heritage or office complex site related matters, we had knowledge about latest trends in each area.

The kitchen is a popular gathering spot in most homes. A lot of entertaining is done in this room as family and friends gather in an area close to where meals and appetizers are being prepared.

Before you sit down and begin planning your new kitchen design layout, brainstorm aspects of your kitchen that you truly love as well as areas that you want to see improved. Ask all members of the family to contribute their ideas.

You want everyone who visits your family to be comfortable and feel welcome, so getting some perspective from your guests' viewpoint can be helpful.

Your kitchen should be beautiful and yet functional for both entertaining and daily use as well, and a good layout can accomplish these things. Carefully selecting your cabinets, countertops and appliances and flooring may take some time. Yet, the time you spend researching and designing your kitchen will provide years of enjoyment and add to the value of your home.

Proper selection of material is important to blend in with the décor either wood, laminate, veneer or other. An indirect throw of light is manier times a great add- on to the ambience of the room. The promise of visual effects via the selection of various kinds of finishing materials leads to many options.

The possibility of using white colour as a feature in Kitchen-Dining Area adds a distinct uniqueness to the interior space.

'Aura' is a unique exhibition organized by PIAT. All the students had prepared for months together so that they can showcase their best projects in AURA. Eminent personalities came to see our work and appreciated the work, which increased our confidence in ourselves.

Ceilings are important aesthetic elements of the Interior Design of a space. Home ceilings are no longer flat and boring. A little imagination and lighting can do wonders to the ceiling.

False ceilings are eye-catching and provide insulation against heat because of the gap between the ceiling layers.

Attractive colours or patterns, decorative wall panels, furniture, show pieces, indoor plants all are elements that are considered paramount to defining the internal ambience and the overall environment.

Ceiling décor is also an important aspect of interior design and can play a vital role in defining the look and the feel of a room. A false ceiling is just one way to enhance the room's aesthetics.

What are lines and what are curves? The answer is different for each individual. PIAT taught us the appropriate usage of lines and curves in interior designing. Each minute element of design was carefully handled by the experienced faculty at PIAT. Theme : linear lines. A straight line continuous extent of length without breadth, a contour or outline considered as a feature of design or composition. Linear lines help to create depth in objects. They help to enlarge the space visually. Linear lines have always been an element to create clean and elegant interiors.

Design: Following the theme, the design consists of a lot of linear lines. Simple linear grooves in the furniture gives it an extraordinary look. The materials used add to the beauty and simplicity of the house.

Colour scheme: Brown +white creates a sumptuous form. White being the neutral colour, brown becomes the emphasized one. Shadows add to the tones, texture becomes a focal point and the room changes in every light. The shapes of the furniture, accessories and flowers are accentuated when silhouetted against white—they become almost sculptural. White is a limitless tool of design, classic and contemporary, tranquil and vivacious.

3D Visualisation, Pune
Business | Rs. 3 lakhs

The computer based designing workshop at my college gave me the skill of Visualisation. I had started learning 3D Visualisation and making projects in my college itself. Very few colleges in Pune offer such knowledge.

3D visualizations enable contractors to understand projects better and take the guesswork out of bidding. Without the uncertainty, contractors don't have to overbid projects.

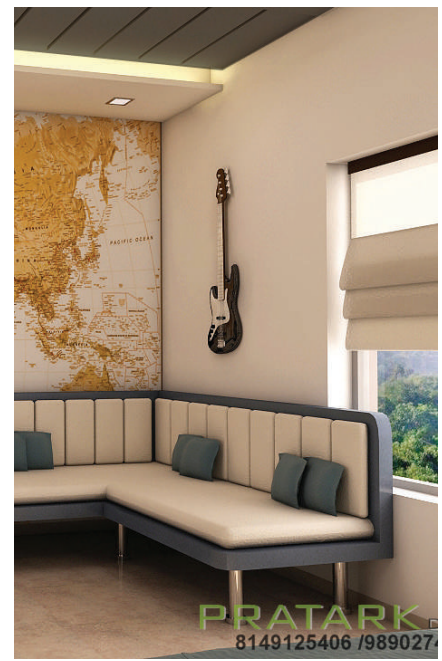

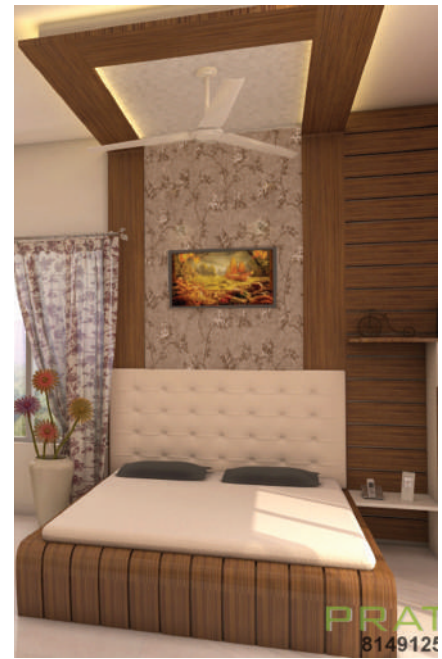

3D visualizations enhance marketing by giving viewers an eye-catching view of a project in multiple forms of media, including television ads and website videos.

3D visualizations give viewers the ability to easily understand the most complex projects without having to know how to read architectural drawings.

Stunning, photo-realistic visualizations improve a project's elegance and style with the use of high-resolution billboard prints.

Suryadatta's Interior Designing college has vast curriculum. There is no subject left out in teaching. We have marks for practical assignments apart from theory subjects. I made lot of friends and met a family at Suryadatta.

The clients' brief was basically to create a drastic change or look over of the house with the great usage of modern and traditional design. The look had to be luxurious but not gaudy and over bombarding.

The living and dining area became a separate and undisturbed zone of the house which gave it a bungalow experience.

All the furniture was designed in such a way that it would flow with the materials used in the room.

Choosing the right material for each element in Interior Design is among the most significant furnishing decision and that's why every designer should take the separate time for it!

The clients' likeness of bright and vibrant colours was translated into the tone of blue and violets for the space with the dark coloured laminated furnishing elements. Luxurious Silk drapery panels in Blue add a subtle.

Immediately after the Interior Designing course at PIAT, I got various opportunities in the field. I could perform well due to the academic and practical inputs given by PIAT. The competition in this field is high and those who have in depth knowledge of the field can grow faster than others. PIAT students have the necessary knowledge & skills and I am sure that they will outperform others always.

It's important to remember that before diners smell or taste the food, they judge your establishment based on the décor and colors surrounding them and how those things make them feel.

Let's first look into a color scheme. Colors play a big role in ambiance because we relate and react to certain colors based on past experiences. You want colors that match your restaurant type and sometimes even match the foods you serve.

The easier color schemes are red, yellow and orange, and the neutrals: beige, ivory, white, taupe, brown, etc. Warm colors promote positive feelings.

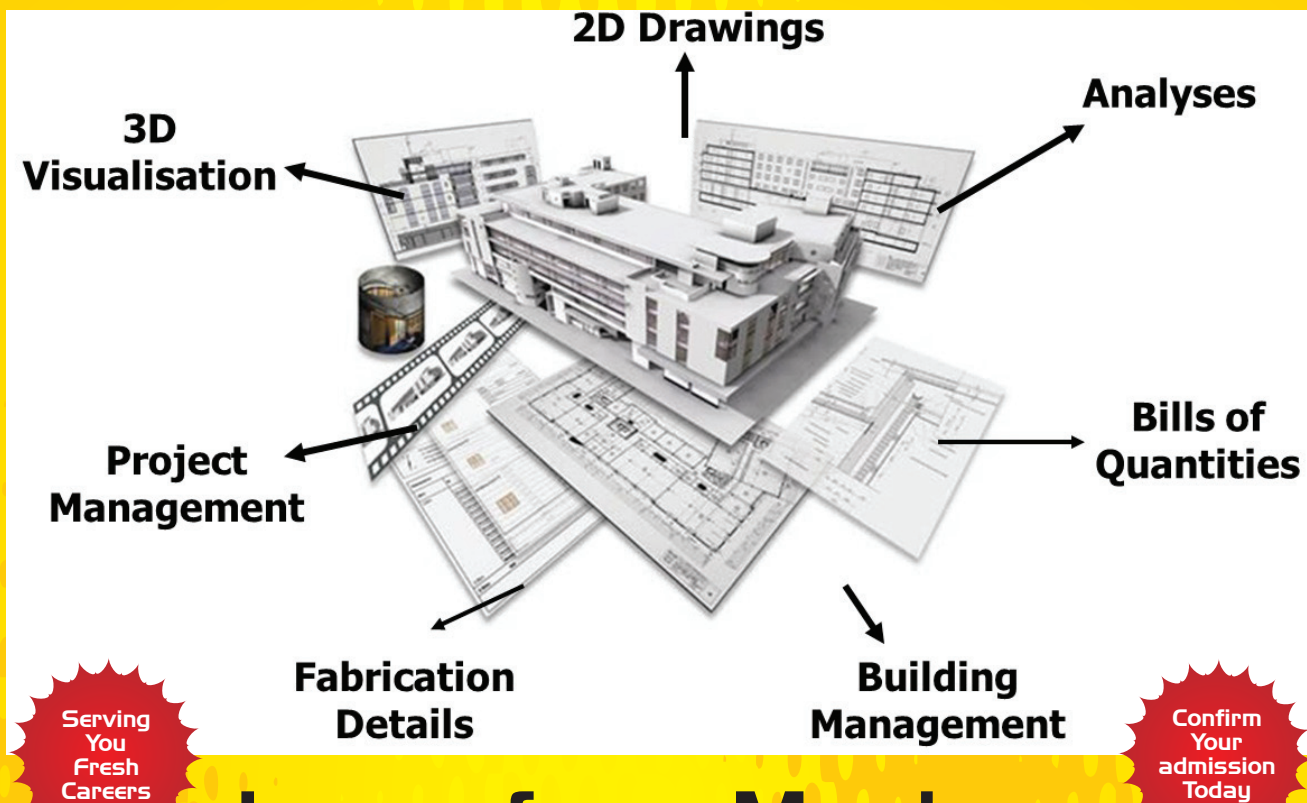

Spacing also goes along with design. While you want your seating arrangements to look good when standing at eye level.

Lighting is a third part of interior design that's important. Lighting helps create an atmosphere for each table, which most restaurant owners want to do since each table is paying for their own experience.

Studying interior design and decoration at 'Suryadatta education foundation's pune institute of applied technology' has been one of the best decisions of my life.

PIAT has taught me a lot about residential and commercial designing and all the other services involved in it. The staff at PIAT is very understanding and kind. I very grateful to all of them.

Restaurant Design Interior Design makes Luxurious Look, whether the requirement is to make the looking of hotel luxurious, there must be involvement of interior design. There are wide varieties of interior design factors that are helpful in making the guests of the hotel more pleasant and happy. I learnt the minutest details of Designing material, styles, colours, textures, patterns etc. at PIAT.

Commercial Design :

Paneling taken in a new way where it serves the purpose of a branding which is very mandatory for each and every commercial project.

Living Area :

Wisely planned and designed living area, connects well with the Entrance and Dining Area. The designing of TV unit is kept very clean and simple which adds a rich feel to the environment. Pale green are known for their soothing effect and also help to brighten the space.

Dining Area :

The dining area is often host to interactive sessions, family talks and bonding with each other. The paneling continues from the wall to the ceiling acts neatly to the area; apart from serving the purpose of illumination of light.

Terrace :

Fresh, positive, idea - inducing and immensely interesting; this particular area of the house imprints an indelible image in the minds of the people.

This area becomes a sensuous after - evening experience for the family.

Bedroom :

The colour palette used creates a focal point for the human eye. The focal point represents "young & enthusiastic" design.

Colour choice is very important in Designs. Each element, each colour, each material is to be chosen keeping in mind the customer requirement and overall theme. My understanding of Design kept on increasing day by day at PIAT where I learnt the importance of colour. I feel happy working with colours that PIAT added to my professional life.

Black and white decorating looks elegant and balanced, bringing harmony and a calm feel into room decor. Also black and white decorating ideas can be exciting and playful, especially when your Interior Designing ideas are inspired by piano keyboards which highlight the music themes.

Everybody likes different music, but black and white piano keyboard images and fabric prints have a universal appeal and suit any room decorating style. Black and white stripes, inspired by the look of a piano keyboard, wall or furniture painting ideas look interesting and playful, bringing a strong color contrast into Interior Designing.

Black and white Designing ideas, inspired by piano keyboard, are sophisticated and simple, offering a perfect solution for Interior Designing with a music theme for all who do not have enough space for a piano. Painting stripes on furniture, floor or walls, or adding a white tablecloth and black napkins to table decor brings the music theme into room decorating and create very original home decor.

You would admit it; the business environment today is fast becoming complex and more challenging. To earn a competitive edge, it is important to be unique, more differentiated, and innovative; more so if you are in construction or manufacturing industry. PIAT gave us the confidence, the skills and the knowledge to become leaders in the field of Interior Designing. PIAT itself is truly the leader in this field. So many students at PIAT have won prestigious awards. The Alumni is also connected with the college and help students learn and earn.

It's time to leverage the power of 3D animation and visualization in improving operational efficiency in construction and manufacturing, as well as gaining maximum cost benefits.

Today, it is important to market your product or project quick and in an effective manner. There is hardly any scope for trial and error, which not only delays time for product-to-market but also increases your cost substantially. This is where 3D visualization and animation can save your time and money.

SEF's PIAT is top Interior Design College and they have lots of other programs to offer as well. They have a great, rigorous program and it's a great place to get a degree.

Sangita Ilag an Interior Designer by profession. She started their design practice in 2010. She was practice in lunkad reality associates. Now she is working in pratap jadhav & associates. A contemporary space design, simple furniture theme & She believes in simplicity and achieving timeless design solution for his clients. Keep on learning as much as I can and satisfy my clients, by continuing the hard work of the 'minimal'.

The client requirements are full fill in the design. Our design principle, construction techniques, aesthetic look in the project.

I am working in both projects commercial & Residence. Creation of photo realistic 3D objects, animated walk through creation, Vaastu compliant plans base on client preference this are the extra skill of our work.

SEF's PIAT is a very a nice college for Interior Designing & Decoration. All the teachers are always inspired to develop our designing skills through market Survey, educational tour , guest lecture etc. I am extremely thankful to college & all teachers for their guidance & moral Support.

3D visualizations enable owners, architects, and developers to see design flaws before anything is built and money is wasted.

Many local authorities reject buildings and developments because of an uncertainty in their final appearance. 3D visualizations take away the uncertainty and give officials more confidence in bidding in a project's favor.

Nidhi Gugale (Bsc ID, 2012-15)

Residential, Pune
Employee | Rs. 2 lakhs

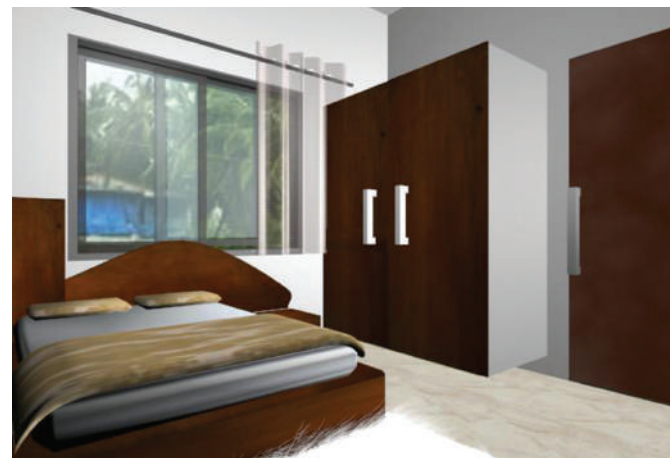

I have just passed out of the college and I am thankful to the management and teachers of PIAT for all the inputs. I will always remember the study tours and site visits organized where exchange of knowledge used to happen freely. I am working as a Designer and am looking forward to a rewarding career in Interior Designing.

Realistic 3D renderings and convincing Graphic Design can help to visualize projects and reach its target, providing an excellent first impression.

One of the main goals of 3D visualization is to show the characteristics of a space or a product before it is constructed, this can be an invaluable tool in architecture, real estate and product design.

My mission is to make projects as attractive as possible by creating high quality designs at its best.

Photography

I decided to write about this topic because photography is one of my favorite classes.

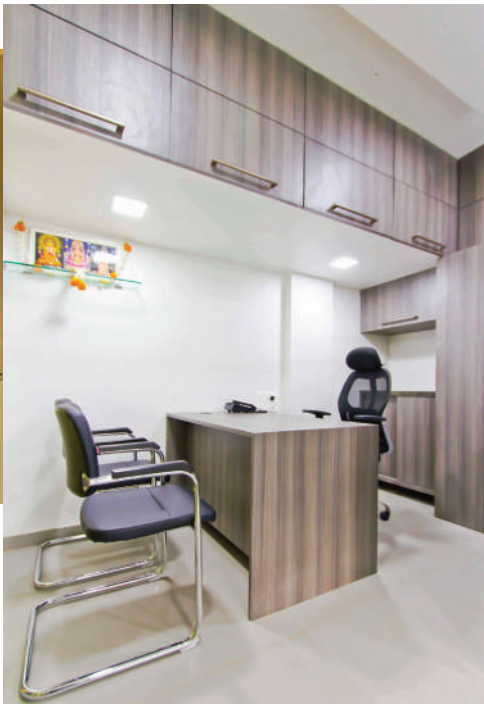

People love photographs. In the world today we're constantly raking-in likes, hiding behind filters, and being happily distracted by our personal news feeds. We like to click, document, and share.

And in return others always know what we're up to. With camera phones, photography has become a pocket-accessible tool.

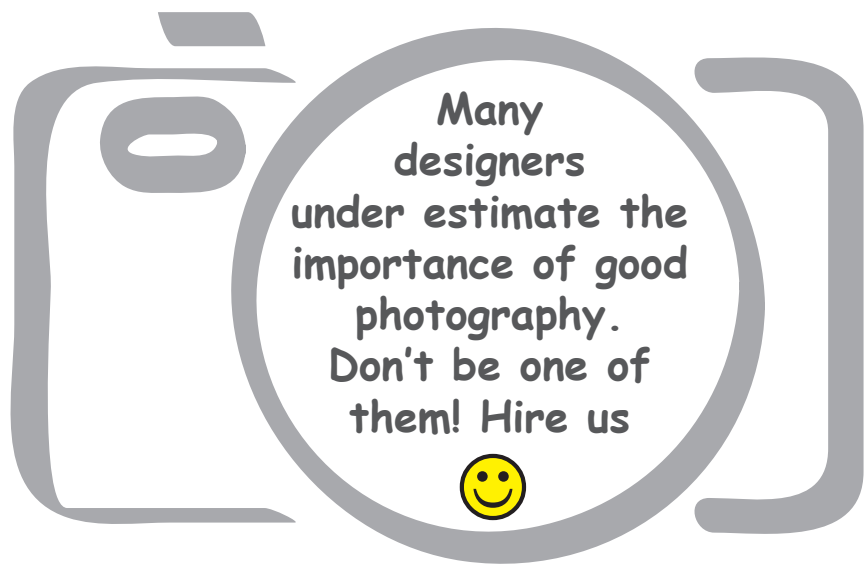

SITE PHOTOGRAPHY

Photography is an extraordinary class that combines the significance of art, history, and digital awareness into one. In the world of photography, we are alud to take pictures of whatever we wish, and may compose any subject or idea that comes to mind, letting our artistic sides run wild.

Many designers under estimate the importance of good photography. Don't be one of them! Hire us 😊
